BLAKEMEN READY FOR ELKINS GAME

Saturday Contest May Prove Hardest Played by Local Team.

MANNINGTON, Nov. 9.—Mannington so far this season has not lost a game. It defeated Shinnston, Fairmont, Grafton, Victory, East Side, and Belington. The Blakemen are the only ones in the county not defeated this season and have been acknowledged the undisputed champions of Marion County.

Saturday this eleven will match strength and skill with the strong Elkins team at Blacksburg Park. Reports received here claim that Elkins has a very heavy team this year, and to date has only lost two games. The first of these was the opening game, in which Weston took Elkins over by a score of 13-0. The Charleston team defeated them 7-0 the following week. Since that time Elkins has won every game played.

A Glenn, the Elkins fullback, is counted one of the strongest in the state this season. In the game with Parsons High School last week Glenn scored nine touchdowns and kicked eleven goals. The score run up by Elkins last week would indicate that the Randolph County champions were matched against a team greatly overpowered, and is not considered by local fans as proving the strength of Elkins. Feeling is running high in Mannington, and the city will be well represented by rooters next Saturday.

The Mannington team may be slightly out-weighted by the Elkins team, but Coach Jerry Blake, a former West Virginia Wesleyan star, is somehow able to make his men do even better than their best, and if the game is as hard as expected Saturday the fighting spirit of the locals will carry the team through to a win if it can be done.

The game will be called at 3:15 p.m. fans who leave Fairmont at 2 o'clock and Mannington at 3 o'clock plenty of time.

THREE BIG PRIZES TO BE AWARDED

MANNINGTON, Nov. 9.—Plans for the three Trade Expansion prizes to be held next week are almost complete. It was reported today and the three major prizes have been determined upon.

The prize for the first day will be $100 in gold, going to the person who holds the lucky number in a drawing contest held on the evening of November 16.

The prize given on the second day will be $150 in gold, the drawing to be held in the same manner as the first. On the third and last day of the trade expansion campaign a Ford car will be the major prize.

Tickets for the prize drawing will be given with each dollar purchase at all the stores participating in the drive, and the winners of the prizes on the first two days will be permitted to hand their winning tickets back to the committee and so have a chance at the final prize.

Flaggy Meadow

Peanut Social
The peanut social given at the Flaggy Meadow school house Friday evening was widely patronized by the young people, and a sum approximating $17.60 was realized. This amount will be turned over to the school to be used in providing additional books for the library.

Education Week
Education Week was observed by the teacher and pupils of the Flaggy Meadow School and on "Virginia Day" an interesting program was given.

Seriously Hurt
J. N. Hamilton was called to the bedside of his father George Hamilton of Metz Monday. Mr. Hamilton was seriously injured in a fall received early Monday morning.

Personals
James Hess has been seriously ill during the last week, but is improving nicely now.
Miss Minnie McCoy of Mannington was a recent guest at the home of Mrs. James Hess.
Miss Janie Hamilton was the guest of Miss Edith Baller Sunday evening.
Charles Tapp recently returned from Bursville, Ind., where he has been for some time.
J. N. Hamilton was visiting at the home of Clyde Hays in Jericho Sunday.

$15,000 RECEIVED.
MANNINGTON, Nov. 9.—A letter from the supreme secretary of the L. O. O. M. lodge reports that $15,000 has already been received toward the erection of a West Virginia Memorial Hall in Moorehead, Ind., and that the remaining $15,000 necessary for the completion of the building has been promised during the next year.

The West Virginia hall will probably be started at once, since Moorehead, Ind., has already been selected to raise the remaining $15,000 now, as a loan to the West Virginia lodges.

Pithy Paragraphs From Mannington

The Moose Band is beginning to toot again.

The last play made by the anti-prohibitionists is the claim that prohibition makes people fat.

Watch 'em begin to diet now!

Deacon Slapapple has received the following letter from Sol Konigsberg which explains itself:

"Mr. Deacon Crapapple: Fellows which they have been writing up the Mannington footballing team they made a funny mistake. 'Coach Blake let me stay and see the practicing on account I looked so dumb and couldn't understand the plays. Honest, I couldn't understand nothing about footballing at all, but from the 'staying' of Coach Blake and Chon Gump and Sassy Prym and Phil Jonsenberg I got the game with the Elkins footballers marked down as a good thing for Mannington fellows to bet on. The scoring is to be something like this: Elkins, 7; Mannington, 14."

"Of course, Elkins is worse loser on account they being billed to lose two ribs, one collar bone, half of one ear, and a corner's knitch, which Mannington won't pay for. The decoraing business will be good, and all the doctors that can with a pass get in the park will give to each footballer a special rate."

"So, from my observation I should say that fellows which they have been writing up the Mannington footballing team they ain't really acquainted with Coach Blake's footballers. If Mannington don't win, then Chuck Dumpy is a put-and-take shark."

Mannington Hi Lights

Literary Stunts.

Apologies to Moses.

By Helen Sybert, '23.

Thou shalt use nothing but good English.

Thou shalt not howl down thyself to slang, nor serve it.

Thou shalt use the dictionary, often.

Always keep good English in your mind.

Five days shalt thou use it in school, and the remaining two days.

Remember thou didst not know any slang until this 'golden age,' but always try to avoid it.

Thou shalt not say 'ain't' for 'those.'

Thou shalt not say 'seen' for 'saw.'

All these things remember, and thou shalt succeed in using good English in the end.

In the Spring.

Esther Culbertson, '26.

Have you seen a school room in the spring?

When the parts of speech are soaring.

With their wealth of promised glory.

And 'haint' pipes its story.

In the Spring?

Augusta Shradler, '23.

There was a slangy word.

And it traveled many miles;

And it caused a lot of comment.

And usually many smiles.

To school it came one day.

And the teacher chided it's way.

So now the word cannot be found.

Because it's gone to stay.

Sybil Brand.

Little mistakes in speech.

Little bits of slang.

Make very bad English.

All over this great land.

Good Advice.

Hamilton Petres, '23.

This is Good English Week you know.

Ignorance of English you must not show.

You final g's must be pronounced.

'Ain't' and 'be done it' be re-nounced.

'Isn't' and 'he did it' their place should take.

This done, a great difference it will make.

And if with us this lesson would remain.

Good English Week would not then be in vain.

Amusing Incident

pony was released without injury by the help of several bystanders.

Arnnett makes good

MANNINGTON, Nov. 9.—Reports from Buckhannon indicate that Glenn Arnnett, Mannington High School halfback last season, is making good on the Wesleyan team this year, and it is believed that Arnnett will be used by Coach Higgins in the game with the third corps, Army eleven.

Arnnett was used in the varsity during practice last evening, and showed up in excellent form. He is fleet-footed, and is a fast man on the defense. Local fans are expecting him to forge his way to the front before the season is ended.

To be buried Friday.

MANNINGTON, Nov. 9.—Funeral services for George Bowler, who died at his home here Tuesday of typhoid fever, will be held from the residence in Main street tomorrow at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Interment will be made in the Mannington Cemetery by Undertaker J. B. Lazar.

Woman's club

Censorship

Criticism and comment on the attractions at the local theaters appearing in this column are furnished by the woman's club of Mannington. The West Virginia does not assume any responsibility for the opinions expressed.

The Princess

While Pauline Starke has the starring role in "My Wild Irish Rose," showing today at the Princess, and lends to the part her usual plaintive charm, she does not seem to have quite as much importance in the making of the story as do Maude Emeo and Helen Howard, two young women who are not so well known to the screen, but both of whom show marked talent.

The story concerns principally the adventures and misadventures of a young Irish landowner whose property has been confiscated by the crown, and who makes a strong fight in the interests of the Fenians as the Sinn Feiners were then called.

In adapting the original story to the screen, an effort was made to bring it up to date, but it is hardly that now, in the face of the recent settlement made in Ireland.

The stage production was given successfully years ago under the title of "The Shagreen," as written by Dion Boucicault, and the screen version is of course changed in many respects but still holds all the features that are dear to the heart of those hailing from the land of the shamrock, and others who are interested in seeing a very pretty and entertaining picture.

Sport and International News are the added features.

The Dixie

Jackie Coogan will be seen for the last time today at the Dixie in "Trouble" in which he has about all the difficulties that could come to a poor orphan child, who not only had his own heart ached to bear but tried to carry the burden of every one he came in contact upon his small shoulders.

He has a role similar to some he has played before, but regardless of his background he stands out always as a diamond in the rough, surroundings in which he is placed vivid, natural and unspoiled.

Buster Keaton shares in the program with Jackie in a farce known as "The Frozen North," which might be called an appropriate title for a vehicle for the frigid faced comedian, who says he assumes the sadfaced countenance because when he was on the stage, folk seemed to like him best when he looked his saddest.

The Nelson

"The Dictator," featured at the Nelson today has for its star Wallace Reid, who as a nifty New Yorker finds his way to a South American port and starts a revolution. Here he meets Juanita, a beautiful senorita, as played by Lilla Lee, and a pretty romance follows.

Theodore Kosloff who makes a good Spanish type is seen to splendid advantage as the father of Juanita.

With three such capable players and a splendid Harding Davis as the day visiting friends in Burton.

Seph Hamilton was a business visitor in Hundred Wednesday.

Miss Cora Hennen has returned from a visit with her sister in Elm Grove.

Henry White of Waynesburg was a business visitor here Tuesday.

OPEN NEW SCHOOL AT GLOVER'S GAP

The building is a modern four room school and has been needed badly for some time. Superintendent Barnes was responsible for the new building being erected.
